This is the first chapter of its kind in our Waupun High School history dedicated to the visual arts and art education.

Visual arts education is essential to 21st-century learning. As a new NAHS chapter we will be utilizing the NAEA to stay ahead of developments in the field of arts education by being introduced to a broad perspective of important research, issues, and policy trends that are important. As a NAHS chapter we are connected to thousands of chapters from around the globe who are passionate about the integral role of the visual arts in ensuring all students receive a high-quality, effective, and well-rounded education.

We believe that the National Art Honor Society will provide our students with pathways leading to career and college readiness. In addition, introducing them to diverse art experiences beyond the walls of Waupun Junior Senior High School aimed to expand their creative minds, gain new art skills, and provide them with leadership opportunities, which will contribute to their personal, artistic, and academic growth.
